

Let's be honest. Pantos are mental, aren't they? Men dress-up as women, women dress as men. Animals talk, bean stalks are magic and small children can fly. Well, welcome to a whole new level of crazy! PANTO CRIME is not one panto but four. Yes four! Snow White is deathly ill but her dwarfs can't find the prince. Red Riding Hood is in desperate need of a woodcutting hero to rescue her beloved Granny. Aladdin and Jasmine have lost the Genii, them themselves and the plot. And Cinderella has lost her handsome prince. But who is to blame for all this mayhem? Enter the bad guys, Melopious and Pig with their magic book and a Wicked Queen on the warpath.

The stories are mixed up and the characters lost and confused. The Fairy Godmother is all in a dither and poor little Alan has lost his nuts.

Be prepared to sing, shout and laugh your socks off, but most of all be prepared for trouble!